THE SENIORS' AIRPLANE VOYAGE, 1926-1930

In September, 1926, fifty-five prospective aviators took off for a four year journey in Maroa High. Lawrence Hastings was chosen pilot, with Mr. Hafer as commanding officer. Later in the month we were welcomed at a wiener roast given by the other classes at Elmer Malone's. We had a valentine party at which everyone enjoyed games and contests and a few also enjoyed fistic encounters.

Ten of our crew dropped into the sea, and we picked up Neiva Long at Argenta, making forty-six to start the second year. Ralph Smart was chosen captain, with Lowell Rodgers and Maxine Smart as assistants. With Miss Whipp as advisor, and a lighter plane, we sailed rapidly through the Sophomore year. We stopped for a valentine party, which was enjoyed as much as was the first one.

With three members less, and Carl Troxell entering during the year, we sailed on as successful Juniors. George Reynolds was pilot, with Lowell Rodgers and Mary Foulke as assistants. Eleven members of the crew proved their ability as actors and actresses in producing the play "At the End of the Lane". A few members of the crew had a skating party at Miller's pond. In May we stopped at a Spanish garden for a banquet in honor of the Seniors. Under the capable direction of Miss Wurzburger, it was a great success.

In our Senior year we flew higher and higher, with only twenty-eight members left. William McGuire was the pilot, with Suzanne Foulke, assistant pilot. While Lawrence Hastings and Ralph Smart's able work with books and finances helped to steer us through, a good bit of our success was due to our guide, Miss Bundy, who carefully steered us clear of any obstacles in the path.

Before the pilots left the plane, gold identification tags in the shape of rings were issued so that we would not forget who we were. "Not the sunset but the dawn", was chosen as our motto. The lilac became our flower and we proudly displayed the colors of lavender and white. The Senior aviators were represented in the Booster Club by George Reynolds, who was president of the club, Betty Lou Stoutenborough, and Lowell Rodgers, and by Ralph Smart in the Athletic Council. William McGuire was president and Suzanne Foulke vice-president of the Student Council. Members of our class were also on the football squad and basketball teams.

Two other important stops were made during the fourth year. One was for the Junior-Senior banquet, and the other for our class play, which was given in the spring. We left the 1930 "Maronois" as our log. Though we made a temporary stop at the end of the year, we hope our classmates will soon take off for a long non-stop flight that will bring success and happiness.

"Life is a voyage, the winds of life come strong
From every point, yet each will speed thy course along,
If thou with steady hand when tempest blow
Canst keep thy course aright and never once let go."

CLASS POEM

Not the Sunset But the Dawn
Time
Is passing,
High school days
Are gone.
Success
Is waiting to be had.
Ambition
Urges strong.
Life
Holds everything for us.
Education
Is but the Dawn.

CLASS SONG

TUNE: Love's Old Sweet Song

Now in our hearts, we feel our goal's ahead,
When on the world, we have our steps to tread,
Out of our dreams that rose in happy throng,
We now feel happy too, to sing this song;
And in our lives, when best to us it seems,
Fate has in store that which we do not dream.
Now we are leaving you, dear schoolmates,
Leaving to see what's for us at the gate.
Ambitions firing, giving us the light,
To seek our goal without, with all our strife.
So we bid you a good-bye that will mean,
We will fight our battles unto the end.

Chorus:

Now we're at departure,
Leaving our dear ole high,
With its flickering shadows
Guiding us by.
When all is dark before us,
We shall smile and sing;
Faithful to Alma Mater,
Unto the end,
Unto the end.

CLASS PROPHECY

One morning as I was leaving the WTM studio in Maroa, I met George Reynolds, a noted aviator of the day and an old classmate of eight years ago. On our meeting, he greeted me with:

"Well, well! If it isn't Rosalie Tolby, the organist. I heard you last night over the radio. Come on, let's take a ride in an airplane, my new "Spirit of Philadelphia".

"Surely I'll go for a ride. I always have desired to take a long ride in an airplane," I answered.

We flew southwest of Maroa and George happened to notice a fine field of corn. Looking a little closer, I recognized another old classmate.

"We might have known Lawrence Hastings would have been a farmer," I said. "And look at the fine, new dairy barn. Who is the maid emerging from it? Why, who would have thought that Lucille Westerman would have betrayed Maxine like that?"

Following the state highway on south, we came to a large, white, prosperous-looking filling station which had accommodations for both automobiles and airplanes. When we descended, we found Franklin Thrift inspecting the place. After greeting him, he told us he was manager of a long line of motor-fuel emporiums. While talking on various subjects, he told us that Carl Troxell had entered the ministry and was now herding a flock in Nicaragua.

We now took up our flight and, on the outskirts of Springfield, we passed over a large circus by the name of "Adams & Rodgers".

"Oh, let's stop at the circus and maybe we'll meet some more of our old classmates," I said.

"All right," agreed George.

So we went down and, as we started across the midway, we were attracted by a raucous voice. Following the sound, we found, to our surprise, that Robert Streich was playing the barker, advertising Louise Wendling's ability to charm snakes.

Looking around, we heard a voice saying:

"Step right up, folks! Everything to gain and not a thing to lose! Only a few left—step right up!! For only a nickel, the twentieth part of a dollar!!!"

We recognized this voice as that of Dorothy Eninger, the proprietor of a gaudy-looking doll-rack.

Entering the big top, we were surprised to see Georgia Vorce, another classmate, performing high in the air on a single strand of wire.

After we left the circus, we found it was nearly noon but we made the most of our flight, stopping in Cairo just as the court house clock struck 12. We walked up the street in search of some place to eat. We came to a neat-appearing cafe bearing the joint title, "Thomas & Luckenbill".

"You don't suppose, by any chance, those names mean Mildred and Guyneith, do you?" I asked as we entered. On entering, our suppositions were affirmed, as, looking towards the back, we saw Mildred giving orders to a new waitress, apparently, and Guyneith was just signing for a telegram. They immediately saw and recognized us and of all the chatter that followed! You know these two always could talk a lot.

"Say, while you're in town, you must go to the 'Lightning', our new theatre, and see a movie," Guyneith said.

"Oh really, we haven't time," I said. "We have seen so many of our old classmates today, I do hope we can find out where all of them are. Do you know about any of them?"

"That is just why we wanted you to go to the movie. Haven't you heard that Ralph Smart and William McGuire are now playing in the talkies?" questioned Mildred.

"Indeed? And to think they both were so enthusiastic about joining the marines!" exclaimed George.

"The Ladies' Aid Society is having a benefit program today and Bonnie Gray is appearing before the crowd. You know she is a dramatic reader and impersonator," said Mildred.

"Well, of all things!" said George and I in one voice.

"Oh yes! Maxine Smart is writing articles on the 'Care of Children' for the nation-wide Maroa News Times," said Mildred. "And once in a while one of Mary Foulke's noted mystery stories appears in that paper also."

"We must be going if we expect to find out much more today. By being hungry, we found out about quite a few of our classmates, didn't we?" asked George.

"Yes; we must go on. Let's take a different route back," I suggested. After being in the air about two hours and a half, George exclaimed: "Say, what's wrong here?"

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"I don't know. I guess we might as well land and I'll see if I can fix it," he said.

"I believe I'll take a walk and look around a bit while you are fixing the plane," I said. "What town is this?"

"Danville, I believe," said George.

After walking quite a distance, I entered what appeared to be a very nice residential district. I was admiring one of the houses especially when I saw someone coming out of the door.

"Well, look who's here!" I exclaimed, for I recognized Betty Lou Stoutenborough as she came from the porch.

"What are you doing here?" she asked. "Come on, I'll take you up town in the car."

"I have been taking a flying trip with George Reynolds and something happened to the plane so I thought I might as well take a walk while he was fixing it," I explained. "Do you live here now?"

"Oh yes, I supposed you had heard I married a banker's son I met at college," she said.

"I'm really surprised," I told her. "Do you ever go to Argenta any more?" I asked with an air.

"Let well enough alone," she said laughingly. "One or two more of our old classmates are here in town, too. James Cooper turned out to be a lawyer and has his office here, and George Groves, who is now a physician, is practicing here, too."

"Really?" I asked.

"Yes, this is James' office right here, and George's is across the street there. That one with the gold letters on the door," she said, as she indicated these to me.

After riding around a while longer, I told her I believed I had better go back because George would probably have the plane fixed by this time. So she drove me out to where we had landed and after greeting George, we both told her good bye and continued our flight westward.

"We might stop at the U. of I. and see if any of our gang have any connection there," I suggested.

"Sure. We might as well," agreed George.

After we got there, I told him I thought I heard singing somewhere. We hastened toward the auditorium and entered, and lo and behold! We saw Ruth Harriet Jones directing a large glee club. We waited until this was over and we met her as she came out of the side door. She was surprised to see us and we had quite a talk. She told us that Hannah Westbrook was teaching Latin there at the university.

"I'm sorry to hurry off so soon but I have an appointment in about fifteen minutes at the beauty shop. Oh yes! Dorothy Milnes has a beauty shop about a couple of blocks from here," she said as she hurried away.

"Well, we might as well nose the plane southwest and go home," I said. "I certainly have enjoyed this trip."

After I got out of the plane at Maroa, I started up the street and I met Neiva Long.

"What a smart dress you have on," I told her. "I suppose you got that abroad on one of your extensive touring trips. You must have purchased it from Maxine Stuller's shop."

"Yes, it came from 'Madame Maxine's French Frock Shoppe.' Suzanne Foulke modeled for me," she said as she started on.

"My! What a day!" I exclaimed as I entered the studio.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1930 of Maroa Community High School, County of Macon, State of Illinois, Nation of United States of the Continent of North America, being of sound mind and of normal mentality, who are about to finish our sapient, unparalleled, omnipotent, prosaic, and versatile career in M. C. H. S., do hereby bequeath our reciprocated attentions and unusual talents, which we are through with forever, to our teachers and schoolmates.

First: To the teachers, we leave our thanks for the many humiliating and degrading tests, our innocent pranks, and low grades, and all credit for giving us success without extra exertion.

Second: To the Juniors, we leave our English notebooks, so that they will not have to spend so many tiring hours on them as we did. Also our ability to concentrate in our home room.

Third: To the Sophomores, we leave all of our humor, so that they may be merry for the rest of their days.

Fourth: To the Freshmen, we leave a small fraction of our common sense so that they may reach a high standard such as we have.

Fifth: We, the rural pupils of M. C. H. S., leave our graceful walks to the Future Farmers of America, as they may be of use to them in getting over the plowed fields.

Finally, we the individuals, with due regard for the feelings of the heirs, do solemnly hereby bequeath our most treasured possessions.

I, Richard Adams, leave my newly-acquired recipe for vapo-rub hair tonic to Willis Spicer that he may have more control over his unruly hair.

I, Ruth Harriet Jones, leave my rapidity of speech to Doris Pride, so that she may be a success in society.

I, Lowell Rodgers, leave my extra season basketball ticket to Rodney Morris so that he may attend all of the games and become a better prophet for county tournaments.

I, Louise Wendling, bequeath my slenderness of form to Helen Hutchinson so that she may discontinue the "eighteen day diet".

I, William McGuire, leave my ability to concentrate to Walter Wheeler so that he will not break the law of Student Council.

I, Guyneith Luckenbill, leave my dimples to Edith Shoemaker on condition that "Skinny" Austin will see the difference.

I, Ralph Smart, leave my good looks and ritzy shoe strings to John Kirby, wishing him as much success with them as I have had.

I, Dorothy Milnes, bequeath my indifference to Helen Lyman, knowing that she will need it worse than I do.

I, Robert Streich, leave my Whippet coupe to James Wikoff so that he may become the center of attraction.

I, Suzanne Foulke, bequeath my knowledge of physics, which will be found in my physics notebook, to Frederick Sterling, so that he may always keep off the flunking list.

I, George Groves, leave my popularity with the girls to Warner Smart, which might add to his vamping qualities.

I, Rosalie Tolby, leave my unrivaled ability as a singer, to Alberta Lienhart. I have never been thrown out yet.

I, Lawrence Hastings, leave my ability to burn midnight gasoline to Twain Fort, providing he keeps out of the south end of town.

I, Lucille Westerman, bequeath my permanent wave to Virginia Lyons, so that she may economize on "bobby pins".

I, James Cooper, leave my athletic ability to Junior Parker, so that he may bring victories for M. C. H. S.

I, Carl Troxell, leave my blushes to Robert Vorce, providing Carrie Agee does not fall for him, rather than for myself.

I, Mary Foulke, will my primness to Mary Pennypacker that she may gain poise.

I, George Reynolds, will my love for Helen Berry to James Waller, so that he may learn the fundamentals of fighting.

I, Maxine Smart, do bequeath my misleading name to any needy Freshman.

I, Mildred Thomas, leave my ability to write letters to a certain "Junior" boy to no one.

I, Maxine Stuller, leave my position as high school jester to Leland Camp, providing he does not tell any bad jokes.

I, Georgia Vorce, leave my demure manners to Maxine Groves so that she may do justice to her place as a Sophomore.

I, Dorothy Eninger, will my silence to Mary Elizabeth Spreckelmeyer, to give her a much needed rest.

I, Franklin Thrift, leave my book on the Lincoln-Douglas debates to John Ammann so that he may some day rival Abraham Lincoln.

I, Hannah Westbrook, leave my compact to Dorothea Susott, providing she doesn't break the mirror.

I, Bonnie Gray, leave my ability to master Latin to the future Latin students of M. C. H. S.

I, Betty Lou Stoutenborough, leave my ability to capture out of town sheiks to anyone who thinks she can do as well.

I, Neiva Long, leave my ability to get ahead of Bill McGuire to Rachael Bowden, providing that she is willing to take such a responsibility.

We hereby appoint Miss Bundy, our patroness, executrix of this, our final will and testament.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hand and seal this twenty-first day of January A. D., Nineteen Hundred and Thirty.

ACTIVITIES

LITERARY CLUB

Top row—N. Long, Moore, Berry, Stuller, Tolby, McInes, M. Ammann.
 Fourth row—Thomas, K. Thomas, Luckenbill, R. Lyons, B. Stoutenborough, Glosser, Kirby, Lyman, H. Stoutenborough, Leach, J. Ammann, Waller, Shoemaker, Spreckelmeyer.
 Third row — Wheeler, Cox, Link, Hastings, Pennypacker, Wheeler, Vande Vanter, Spooner, Stivers.
 Second row—S. Foulke, Braden, Susott, N. Tozer, M. Tozer, Dash, V. Lyons, Bowden, Bowman, Eninger, Miss Bundy (advisor).
 First row—Stonebraker, Hobkirk, Thrift, M. Foulke, Jones, Bourne, Groves, Pennypacker, Rogers, Pride.

The "Cheshire Cheese Club" was organized in September, 1929, with a total enrollment of fifty-three members.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected:

President.....	Rosemary Cox
Vice-president.....	James Walker
Secretary.....	Mildred Thomas
Treasurer.....	Dorothy Milnes
Advisor.....	Miss Bundy

The purpose of this organization is threefold, namely: first, to combine educational, social work, and business together; second, to develop stronger teamwork among the students and to promote higher ideas of correct reasoning; third, to develop a greater interest in all of the various branches of literary work, through the informal reports and discussions given by members of the society.

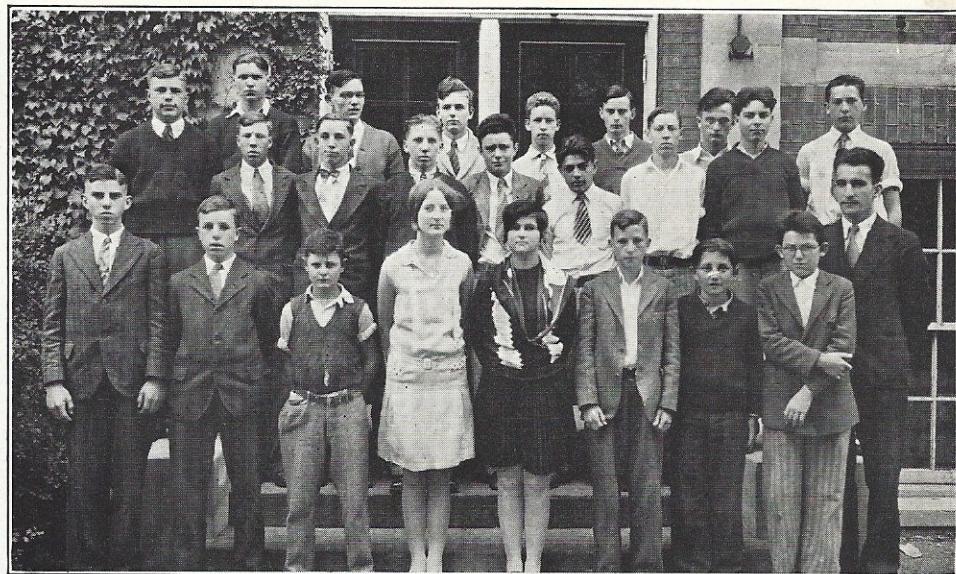

The motto of this organization is: "We study not for school but for life".

Each week news of the school is put in the Maroa News Times, by the editor, John Ammann, and assistant editor, Rachael Bowden.

Any student in high school is eligible to join this organization if he or she has, at any time, taken English.

The meetings are held on an average of twice a month, at which times readings, reports, contests, and musical numbers are given.

RADIO CLUB

Top row—Ammann, Hilt, Adams, Groves, Hayden, Crouch, Hastings, Caplinger.

Second row—Thrift, F. Sterling, Kirby, Morris, Rose, Himes, Vorce, Mr. Keyes (advisor).

First row—Reynolds, J. Sterling, Tozer, Susott, Pride, Wheeler, Emery, Spicer.

The Radio Club was organized by Mr. Keyes in the fall of 1928. The purpose of this club is to give the boys an idea of some of the modern inventions. The club gives them a chance to find out by actual experience just how a radio works, and the experience will help them if they wish to take similar work in the future.

During the club meetings, there are discussions on various radio troubles and problems, and set building. After each meeting, the members have code practice and each member works on his radio set. In the spring the club has searching parties directed by radio.

Anyone in high school, who is interested in this work, may become a member. There are fifteen new members this year.

The officers are:

President	George Reynolds
Vice-president	Robert Vorce
Secretary	Franklin Thrift
Sergeant-at-arms	George Groves
Advisor	Mr. Keyes

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Fourth row—Foulke, Westerman, Hutchinson, Smart, M. Thomas, Braden, Kaiser, Gossler, Camp, V. Lyons, Fishei, Cade, E. Stoutenborough, R. Lyons, Mildred Thomas, K. Thomas, Spooner, Bowman.

Third row—Medor, Bennett, Lienhart, Pride, Link, Hastings, Cooper, Leach, Eninger, Cox, Wendling, Spreckelmeyer, Vorce, Stivers.

Second row—R. Jones, Lyman, Groves, Lowry, M. Groves, N. Tozer, M. Tozer, Gray, Westbrook, Susott.

First row—Thrift, Bourne, D. Jones, Dash.

The officers are as follows:

President	Mary Foulke
Vice-president	Florence Meador
Secretary	Maxine Stivers
Treasurer	Helen Lyman
Advisor	Miss Wurzburger

The object of this organization is to form a connecting link between the home and the school. The motto is: "Do not stare up the steps of opportunity but step up the stairs". The aims are expressed in the following verse:

To live content with small means.

To seek elegance rather than luxury; and refinement rather than fashion.

To be worthy, not respectable.

To be wealthy, not rich.

To study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act friendly.

To listen to the stars and birds, babes, sages, with open heart.

To hear all cheerfully.

To bear all bravely, await occasions, hurry never, in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common.

This to be my symphony.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Top row—Reynolds, Milnes, Adams, Wilson, Austin, Bennett, Hastings, Waller, Caplinger.

Third row—Hilt, Adams, Andes, Ammann, Troxell, Purdue, Camp, Foulke, Wendling, Shields, Reed, Long, Mr. Erwin.

Second row—Streich, McGuire, Smart, Rodgers, Thrift, Cooper, LaZelle, Fort.

First row—Himes, Sterling, Wikoff, Sterling, Parker, Glick, Morris, Smart, Fishel.

This organization, which is a new club in our high school, was organized in the fall of 1929. There are twenty-five members of this chapter.

The officers are as follows:

President	Ralph Smart
Vice-president	Robert Milnes
Treasurer	Lowell Rodgers
Secretary	John Ammann
Reporter	Lawrence Hastings
Sergeant-at-Arms	Dick Adams

The purpose of this club is the same as that of the Agricultural Club, namely, to promote agriculture and to help persons decide upon farm occupation.

This year the club sponsored the fourth annual Corn and Poultry Show, which was held January 17 and 18, in the Crum building. The show was a great success and much valuable information was received by our members.

The Father and Son Banquet, which was sponsored by the organization, was held January 20, at the high school. Fifty-two boys and fathers were present.

Representatives of the club were sent to different judging contests. The dairy team, composed of Lawrence Hastings, John Ammann, and Charles Bennett, judged at Shelbyville without success. The corn and poultry teams judged at Moweaqua. The poultry team, composed of Nelson Wilson, Lowell Rodgers, and Charles Bennett, won third place here. In the Oratorical Contest held February 19, at Shelbyville, the club was represented by John Ammann, who won third place.

THE HIKING CLUB

Second row—Pennypacker, Stonebraker, Lowry, Dash, Bowman, Susott, Mary Pennypacker, Miss Witt (advisor).

First row—Hobkirk, Thrift, Groves, Bourne, Pride.

The Hiking Club, under the direction of Miss Witt, was organized in September, 1929, with a total enrollment of twenty-three members.

This club was the first of its kind to be organized in the Maroa Community High School, and the girls take a great interest in out-of-doors sports.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected:

President	Rachael Bowden
Vice-president	Helen Wheeler
Reporter	Helen Bennett
Cheer Leader and Song Leader	Verneil Bowman
Advisor	Miss Witt

The purpose or aim of this organization is to promote a greater interest in all out-of-doors sports and activities, and to get the members together socially.

The members went on hikes in the evening after school. After determining the destination, the girls set out, and upon arriving, ate their lunch, sang songs, and gave school yells.

In favorable weather the members met on Monday nights, but if the weather was not suitable for hiking they postponed the hike until Wednesday night.

BOOSTER CLUB

Top row—Milnes, Ammann, Waller, Mr. Menke (advisor).

Second row—Wheeler, Rodgers, Morris, Kirby, Reynolds.

First row—B. Stoutenborough, Cox, Groves, H. Stoutenborough.

The Booster Club was organized early in the fall of 1929. It is made up of three students from each class, two boys and one girl. These people are elected by the class they represent.

This club endeavors to establish good sportsmanship and to foster a better spirit among the students.

The officers are as follows:

President	George Reynolds
Vice-president	Helen K. Stoutenborough
Secretary and Treasurer	Maxine Groves
Advisor	Mr. Menke

The Booster Club consists of the following representatives:

Seniors	Juniors
George Reynolds	James Waller
Lowell Rodgers	John Ammann
Betty Lou Stoutenborough	Rosemary Cox
Sophomores	Freshmen
Rodney Morris	Walter Wheeler
Robert Milnes	John Kirby
Helen K. Stoutenborough	Maxine Groves

The club has done its work as the occasion has demanded and has also tried to see the future as an intimate part of the present. This club is formulating plans for a bigger and better Booster Club next year.

Much of this success of the club is due to the splendid supervision of Mr. Menke, the club's advisor.

GLEE CLUB

Top row—Austin, Braden, Shoemaker, Kaiser, Lienhart, Streich, Cooper, M. Foulke, Thomas, R. Jones.

Third row — Vande Vanter, Stivers, Westbrook, Wheeler, Groves, Ammann, Berry, Lyman, Luckenbill, Dash, Pennypacker, Miss Wurzburger (advisor).

Second row—Gray, D. Jones, Cox, Bowden, Spooner, Tozer, Rogers, Hobkirk, Pride, Agee.

First row—Glosser, E. Shoemaker, Hastings, Eninger, Stoutenborough, K. Thomas, S. Foulke, Stonebraker, Camp.

Leader..... Ruth H. Jones

Pianist..... Rosemary Cox

Advisor..... Miss Wurzburger

All things must have a beginning, and so it was that the idea of continuing the Glee Club after a lapse of two years resulted in the present organization, with Ruth H. Jones as leader and Miss Wurzburger as advisor.

During the year, the members of the club met every Thursday evening for practice, both for group work and for individual work. The girls have enjoyed working together and feel that all have had a part in uniting the school through the medium of music.

The Glee Club has ably furnished entertainment for various functions during the year. Representatives of the club, consisting of a quartet and their leader, appeared on a program before a meeting of Macon County teachers. The club sang a number of songs for the Founders' Day program for the Maroa Parent-Teachers' Association.

The Glee Club participated in the Macon County High School Musical Contest held in Macon.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was organized in November, 1929. This is the first time this school has had an organization of this kind.

The purpose of the council is to look after the current interests arising in the student body, so that the best interests of the school may be served.

This organization is composed of the presidents and vice-presidents of the classes. William McGuire and Suzanne Foulke were elected president and vice-president, with Mr. Menke, advisor. The members are as follows:

William McGuire	Gertrude Hastings
Suzanne Foulke	Robert Milnes
Wilbur Chapman	Doris Pride
Wallace Turner	Melbourne Lazelle

The members of this council have accomplished several things. They have collected donations from the students of the school for several Christmas baskets. These were given to poor and needy families in Maroa.

This organization has also started a movement to promote the scholastic standing in the school by giving letters as awards to students who have made averages of ninety or above in all their studies for the entire school year. A distinction will be made between the Prima and Secunda honor rolls. The Prima honor roll is made up of those having ninety per cent or above in every subject. The Secunda honor roll is composed of those having an average of ninety per cent or above, but falling below ninety in one or more subjects.

One of the foremost objects of the Student Council, which is kept constantly in mind, is to look into the matter of absences on the part of the members of the school. The president of each class is responsible for his class in this respect. In the case of illness, or whatever it might be that is causing the absence of the student, a greeting card, flowers, or letters are sent to him from the class. This promotes good fellowship and interest toward one another in the classes.

As this organization is new in the school and is just getting a start, only a few things have been accomplished, but in future years the Student Council will probably be indispensable to the school.

Top row—R. Smart, Rodgers, Reynolds, McGuire.

Second row—Jones, Westbrook, Tolby.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTIES

THE HIGH SCHOOL WIENER ROAST

The annual wiener roast given by the upperclassmen in honor of the Freshmen was held at the home of Evelyn Stoutenborough on September 28.

After a hearty meal of wieners, buns, pickles, marshmallows, and apples, the program was given. Each class put on a stunt; the winner of which was awarded a prize. The president of the Senior Class, William McGuire, welcomed the Freshmen. This speech was answered by Melbourne Lazelle. The various candidates for the position of school yell leader tried out by each leading some yells. Talks by various members of the Faculty concluded the program.

Some of the upperclassmen took advantage of the golden opportunity presented and initiated several of the Freshman boys by a cold plunge in Mr. Stoutenborough's water tank.

Everyone went home, leaving behind nothing but the memory of another social event.

A FLYING CIRCUS

On the night of February 7, 1930, the high school students gathered in the gymnasium for a flying jubilee. The party was given by the Reds, the losing team of a magazine contest held several weeks before, for the Greens, the winning team. Ralph Smart served as master of ceremonies.

The admission to the jubilee was a package containing something for which the giver had no further use. These packages were later given as prizes.

One of the games was a physical examination for boys. We wonder if Floyd Hilt and Timmy Crouch got tired of holding glasses of water on the backs of their hands.

A very serious operation was also performed by several of our renowned doctors upon one of the boys. This was one of the main attractions of the evening.

At this high school event a great deal of school spirit was shown, which indeed may be followed as a good example in succeeding years.

The committee in charge of the party was Mary K. Ammann, Helen Berry, Rosemary Cox, Dorothy Milnes, George Reynolds, James Waller, Wilbur Chapman, and William McGuire.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. George Waller, Mrs. A. C. Ammann, and Mr. T. R. Cox.

FUTURE FARMERS' FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held Monday, January 20, 1930, in the hall of the high school. Fifty-two fathers and sons were present.

An appetizing meal was prepared by the home economics class of Miss Wurzburger. The main course consisted of fruit cocktail, Swiss steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, carrots and peas, Harvard beets, rolls, celery, preserves, pineapple-cabbage salad, butterscotch pudding, coffee, cake, and nuts.

The program was of an agricultural nature. William McGuire acted as toastmaster for the occasion. Ralph Smart welcomed the fathers. Ralph Parlier told of his trip to the Chicago 4H-Club Congress, where he was sent because he was Illinois' champion dairyman. Charles Bennett, James Waller, and John Ammann talked on the activities of the 4-H Clubs, agricultural class, and Future Farmers' organization. Mr. W. C. McGuire spoke on the part which the future farmers are going to take and how even at the present time they are starting to succeed. Mr. Menke spoke on the subject "Possibilities of Vocational Agriculture". It was very interesting and brought out the importance of the subject.

FOOTBALL

Top row—Hayden, F. Sterling, A. Adams, J. Sterling, Austin (manager).
Second row—Bennett, Crouch, Wilson, Ammann, Smart, Troxell, Hilt, Mr. McKee (coach).
First row—D. Adams, McGuire, Milnes, Chapman, Waller.

Our football season was not a great success as far as great percentage of wins and losses are concerned, but it certainly was a great team and showed improvement over those of the past three years. With Captain Adams and McGuire holding down the guard positions, alongside of Bud, our dependable center, our line had the strongest center of any team we played. Hilt and Waller, who played a good game at tackle, both helped stop anything coming their way and were indispensable in their offensive work. Our ends were both small and inexperienced, but certainly made up for this by their fight in the game.

Our backfield, though not heavy, possessed plenty of speed and pep, and generally managed to stop any steam roller attempts of the opponents to score, as well as being able to do their full share of scoring.

Wilson and Troxell were both fast and clever halfbacks, who kept the opponents worried as to just what was going to happen next. Both were good broken field runners and either could snag a pass if it were thrown anywhere near him.

Ammann, our regular quarterback, was light and small, but certainly made up for this by his cleverness in handling the ball. He was also a good ball carrier, and although not fast, he was shifty and elusive to tacklers.

Smart, the fullback, managed to get through the line for several good gains during the course of the season and stopped a few of the opponents' ball carriers.

We lose four men by graduation this year, and their absence will be sadly felt on the field next year. Adams, McGuire, Troxell, and Smart have played their last game of football under the colors of the old school.

DURFEE JUNIOR HIGH (18-0)

This was our first game and the team certainly showed to advantage the training they had previously received. It was an easy game for us with Wilson and Troxell tearing around ends for from fifteen to twenty-five yards at a time and running away with an occasional long pass. We held them without a point while we scored three touchdowns.

MACON—Homecoming (19-12)

The gang waited too long to get started in this game and, although we held them scoreless the second half while we tore up their line for long gains, and outplayed them all around, their first half lead was too great and they won 19-12.

HAMMOND (20-6)

Our team did not seem to possess the spirit and fight it had shown before. Our backs could not get away for any gains of great advantage until about the last quarter. Then we started passing, and Troxell snared a long pass for our only counter. A line plunge failed by inches to secure the extra point, and we were defeated by a score of 20 to 6, the worst defeat of the season.

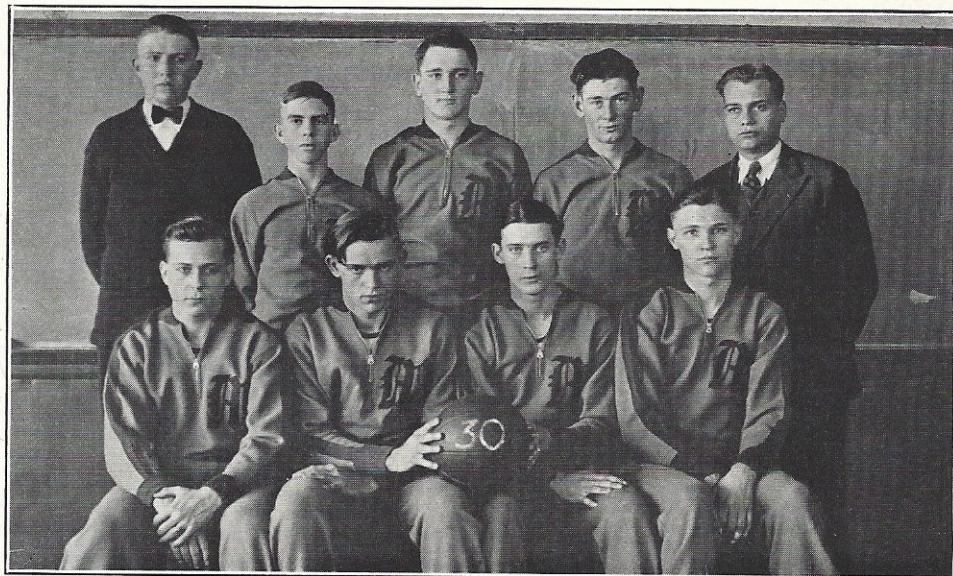

CLINTON (0-0)

Smart, regular fullback, was out of this game because of injuries received in practice, but the team fought just that much harder to win, and as a result neither team scored. Although we were in scoring position most of the time, we seemed to lack the punch to put it over. Our strong defense kept the opponents from dangerously threatening our goal the entire game.

CERRO GORDO (10-0)

This was the last game for four members of the team, and they were determined to make it their best game. Cerro Gordo rushed us off our feet the first quarter, scoring two touchdowns and one extra point. The team entered the second quarter determined to make up for lost time, and they certainly did. The line held like a stone wall, and the backs started to get in action. Early in the fourth quarter we started a march from our own forty-yard line and by straight football carried the ball down to Cerro Gordo's five-yard line, where we lost it on an attempted end run and a pass. Adams and McGuire featured in this game, opening great holes in the opponents' line, through which Smart made long gains. It was these three who were mainly responsible for that sensational march of the fourth quarter.

BASKETBALL

First row—Smart, Adams, Wilson, Hilt.

The old M. C. H. S. surely came out with flying colors this year, ending her basketball season with a percentage of about .700. We lose Smart, Adams, and Troxell this year, which leaves Hilt and Wilson to continue the work next year. Our team can say without exaggeration and with pride, that they have never been badly beaten by any opponent during the whole season. The worst defeat was a ten-point defeat by Clinton in the District Tourney.

Smart, captain of the team and guard, played his last game for the blue and gold this year. The three Seniors of the team realized that this was their last year and tried to make the best of it. This is shown by the fact that Troxell received a forward on the second all-star team of Macon County, and Smart received a guard position on the first all-star team of Macon County.

Adams, the big guard, was not so fast, but he surely covered his part of the floor and there were very few opponents who got in for close shots. He was as good a guard as on any team in this part of the state, and certainly showed his ability, especially in the District Tourney against Clinton.

Troxell is a fast and clever forward and a very good floor man, but he had tough luck on his shots at the basket upon nearing the close of the season. Troxell was a man who was always fighting the ball, and he never gave up until the last whistle.

Wilson is another fast forward, a clever floor man, and is fast and shifty with his feet. He is also a good dribbler and has an excellent eye for the basket. Wilson is a Sophomore this year, so he certainly has the best chance in the world to be among the fastest forwards that ever played on this floor.

Hilt, our big six-foot-three center, has another year, and ought to make it a good one with his experience. We seldom had to worry about controlling the tip-off when Hilt was playing at center. Hilt was a good ball handler and had a good eye for the basket.

AT WAPELLA (WAPELLA, 18; MAROA, 17)

This was our first game, and the team certainly showed the stuff that was in them when they played Wapella to a standstill with only eight days' practice behind them. The team showed good form and gave promise of a great team by making Wapella play an overtime to beat them. We were four points ahead and had about three minutes to play, but Wapella tied the score and forced an overtime which won the game for them on a free throw.

AT KENNEY (MAROA, 23; KENNEY, 24)

Our second game of the season proved to be a rather exciting one and also rather rough, but Kenney had already played several games and they had beaten some of the best teams around here, so this game proved to be another raise in the stock of our team.

Our team and the referee nearly got mobbed, but nevertheless we managed to get Adams off the floor and home without actually having a fight.

AT HAMMOND (HAMMOND, 23; MAROA, 25)

Hammond was supposed to have the toughest team in this part of the state, but proved to be not too tough for Maroa. The team lacked confidence the first half, and I think were a little bit "scared" of the reputation that Hammond had. After the first half their confidence was restored, and they played Hammond off their feet, piling up the score and winning by a two-point margin.

AT HOME (ARGENTA, 14; MAROA, 16)

Our first game at home, and our second victory out of four starts, making our percentage .500. Argenta came here with great hopes for a victory, but were sadly disappointed. Our team let them get loose for a few long shots in the last quarter, which almost spelled disaster.

AGAINST THE ALUMNI (MAROA, 19; ALUMNI, 12)

All the old high school stars met and attempted to beat the high school team in their second home game, but were unsuccessful. This game gave the homeowners some idea of our strength. We defeated the Alumni, 19-12. Bolen, Caplinger, Bowden, Butler, Kempshall, Parlier, Stevens, and Morganthaler played for the Alumni, but to no avail.

AT MT. ZION (MAROA, 27; MT. ZION, 12)

With two of the regulars caught in a snowdrift, the team of Waller, Wilson, Hilt, Smart, and Ammann defeated the Mt. Zion cagers in easy style. Maroa's defense was outstanding the first half, not allowing a single field goal to be scored. The score at the half was 15-2, and the final score was 27-12. After the game the team went and tried to get the snowbound car out of its harbor, but owing to the cold and lack of strength, had to give up to a team of mules. Summary—one win and one defeat.

Macon County Tournament

In the tournament, Maroa met and defeated Blue Mound in first class style, 19-8. They next met Macon in the semi-final, and Macon outclassed the boys seven points, the score being 18-11. In the consolation game, Warrensburg proved too hot, and Maroa too slow, so Warrensburg easily defeated us, 13-5, giving us fourth place. Although the team as a whole did not do so well, we were honored by having two members making all-star selections. Smart was awarded a guard position on the first team, owing to his versatility in the offensive and defensive. Troxell was awarded forward berth on the second team because of his outstanding floor work.

AT ARGENTA (MAROA, 14; ARGENTA, 18)

Argenta, champions of Macon County, were our next opponents. The game was close throughout. Argenta's ability to shoot long shots was the main factor in declaring them winners. The final score was 18-14. The Maroa boys played hard and cautiously, but the forward named Walker, who scored ten points on long shots, was too much.

AT HOME (MAROA, 4; WARRENSBURG, 7)

Warrensburg, who defeated us in the County Tourney, defeated us 7-4 on our home floor. Maroa was unable to hit close shots. Every member, with the exception of Adams, who never shot, missed close ones which would have easily won the game. This game was the only defeat on the home floor.

AT NANTIC (MAROA, 27; NANTIC, 21)

Playing a fair game during the first half enabled the boys to hold a four-point lead, which during the second half was stretched two more points, making the final score 27-21. Two regulars, Hilt and Troxell, were on the benches, being saved for the Kenney game the following night. Wilson, regular forward, seemed to be slightly warm, in that he scored twenty-one of the team's total twenty-seven points.

AT HOME (MAROA, 26; KENNEY, 7)

Maroa was out to avenge the one-point defeat given them at the first of the season. The game was in the hands of Maroa throughout. With the offense working fairly well and defense functioning perfectly, the result was a one-sided 26-7 score. This game was somewhat different from the one at Kenney. There were no arguments nor fistic combats. It was easily seen that Maroa was superior.

AT HOME (MAROA, 22; CERRO GORDO, 7)

The team went into this game with the intention of getting revenge for a 13-0 defeat which Cerro Gordo handed us in football. Cerro Gordo proved to be easy to handle and were easily defeated by a score of 22-7.

AT HOME (MAROA, 12; WAPELLA, 11)

Wapella, the DeWitt County champions, arrived here fully expectant of an easy victory, but went home sorely disappointed. Marca's deliberate offense and tight defense kept them from scoring greatly, while the strong defense of Wapella kept our guards from getting in for close shots. We finally beat them by a one-point margin.

AT CERRO GORDO (MAROA, 27; CERRO GORDO, 16)

Maroa won another easy victory over Cerro Gordo by a score of 27-16. Our offensive was functioning perfectly, while the guards didn't have much trouble preventing the opponents from obtaining many shots. Coach McKee played the second team the greater part of the second half.

AT HOME (MAROA, 15; MT. ZION, 14)

Mt. Zion returned our early season visit on February 15, wishing to avenge the 27-12 defeat handed to them by the locals. This was a tight game all the way through until a field goal and free throw late in the fourth quarter cinched the game for Maroa. It was Maroa's sixth consecutive victory.

AT WARRENSBURG (MAROA, 16; WARRENSBURG, 18)

Maroa went to Warrensburg intending to even up the score between the two teams. A field goal in the last minute of play spelled defeat for Maroa. This made Warrensburg's third victory over Maroa.

AT HOME (MAROA, 15; HEYWORTH, 9)

Heyworth was expected to be the toughest opponent of the season, but proved rather easy, as indicated by the score, 15-9. Heyworth made the game very uninteresting by stalling when they could not get through the local defense.

AT HOME (MAROA, 27; NANTIC, 19)

Maroa had defeated these boys earlier in the season, 27-21, and of course they wanted to avenge the beating. Maroa won the game rather easily, and Coach McKee substituted freely. It marked the last game for three Seniors, Adams, Troxell, and Smart. It also was the fourth year in which Smart had played on the first team. The final score was 27-19, and Troxell was the high light of the game.

Decatur District Tourney(MAROA, 7; CLINTON, 17)

Maroa could not hold their slim 6-2 lead which they had maintained in the first half, and Clinton trimmed them, 17-7. Maroa surprised everyone in the way they played the first three quarters, but the defense cracked in the fourth period and everything went up in smoke.

The boys closed a fairly successful season with thirteen wins and eight defeats.

GIRLS' GYMNASIUM CLASS

Top row—Eninger, Cade, Stonebraker, Leach, Thomas.

Third row—Shoemaker, Austin, Kaiser, Groves, Ammann, Stoutenborough, S. Foulke, Milnes, Link, Pennypacker.

Second row—Stivers, Vande Vanter, Wheeler, Cox, Bowden, Spooner, Pride, Susott, Miss Wurzburger (advisor).

First row—M. Pennypacker, Smart, M. Tozer, Vorce, Rogers, Thrift, Hobkirk, N. Tozer.

The Girls' Gymnasium Class was reorganized in the fall of 1929 with the following officers:

President	Helen K. Stoutenborough
Treasurer	Dorothy Milnes
Reporter	Rachael Bowden
Coach	Miss Wurzburger

The center for each team acted as captain for her team. The captains were:

Freshman Team	Leonora Stonebraker
Sophomore Team	Mary K. Ammann
Junior Team	Miriam Vande Vanter

All girls in high school are eligible to be in this class, which consists principally of basketball playing. It gives those who can participate an opportunity of getting wholesome exercise and recreation after school hours.

Those who received letters last year are as follows:

Mary K. Ammann	Dorothy Milnes	Helen K. Stoutenborough
Gladys Austin	Martha Pennypacker	Marybelle Tozer
Rachael Bowden	Bertha Rogers	Norma Tozer
Verneil Bowden	Edith Shoemaker	Miriam Vande Vanter
Rosemary Cox	Helen Spooner	Jessie Vaughn
Helen Lyman	Maxine Stivers	Georgia Vorce
	Helen Wheeler

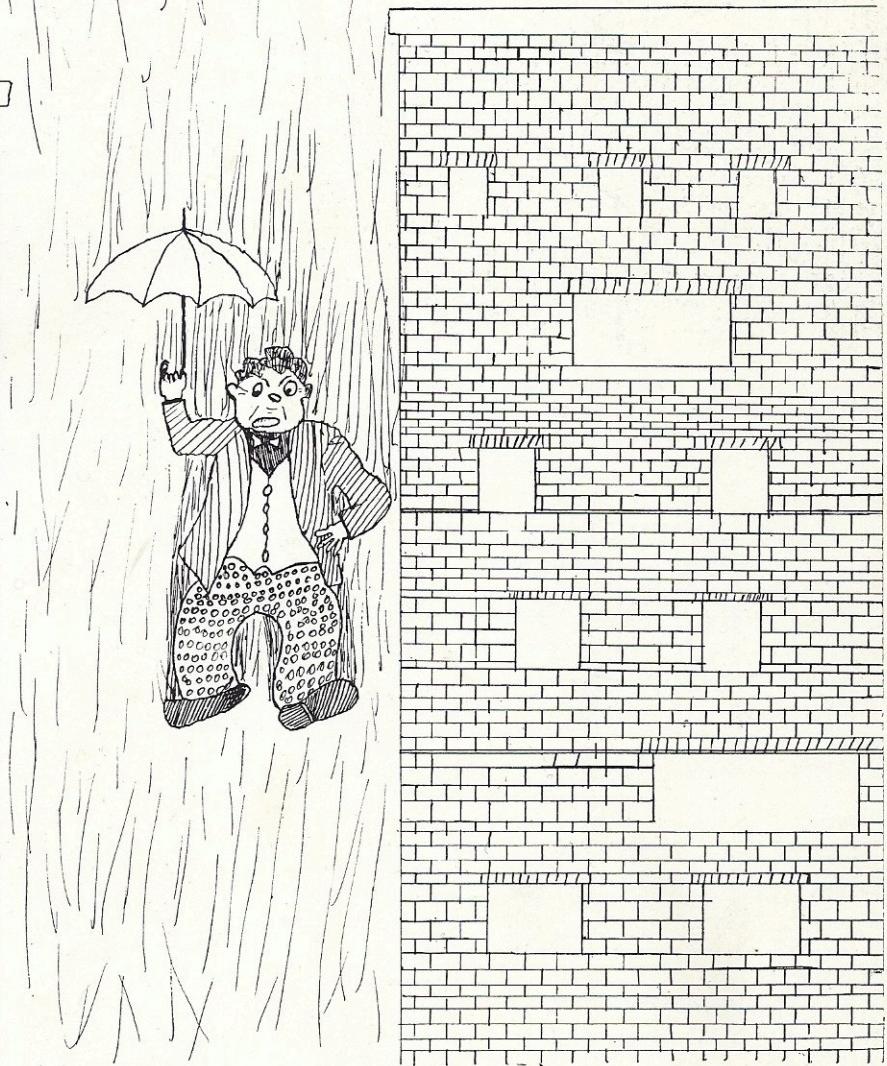

A great deal of credit and thanks are due Miss Wurzburger for her earnest and willing efforts to give us this recreation.

JOKES

We hope our jokes appeal to you,
 We've surely had to fuss and stew
 And work to get them out to you.
 We've thought and pondered till we're blue,
 And crammed and studied and toiled—phew!
 So if you'll only give us our just due
 And laugh and chuckle and scream some, too,
 We'll think our little task is through.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Young man, consider the future, and consider Life Insurance in your future.

What is Life Insurance?

It is financial faith well founded, hope realized and love made immortal.

It is the organized love of men for their families, the capitalization of affection, the prudence of years, the riches of the poor and security of the rich.

Life Insurance is guaranteed thrift because it furnishes the safest, the best, the easiest to buy, the quickest to buy, the lowest in cost, the least expensive to maintain, the most burglar-proof, fool-proof estate known.

It is always worth 100 cents on the dollar, and at death automatically converts into cash.

Let me tell you the rest of it.

Found on a Sophomore's English composition: "The gun went off and shot my aunt, who was walking in front of my mother below her knee."

• • • •

Mr. Keyes: "Yes, many men work their way up from nothing; I myself started life as a barefoot boy."

Ralph S.: "Well, I wasn't born with shoes on either."

• • • •

Rachael: "I had my pictures taken Friday."

Montizelle: "Have you the proofs?"

Rachael: "No; you'll just have to take my word for it."

• • • •

Warner S.: "I know why your hair is parted in the middle."

Junior S.: "How so?"

Warner S.: "Every block must have its alley."

• • • •

Betty Lou: "Don told me last night that I was the eighth wonder of the world."

Marie: "What did you say?"

Betty Lou: "I told him not to let me catch him with any of the other seven."

• • • •

Lady: "My, doesn't travel bring out all that is in one?"

Traveler: "Yes, especially ocean travel."
